

Seminar

Latest Developments in the field of Better Regulation in the European Union: Key Principles, Concepts and Practices

Brussels (BE), 15-16 March 2010
Maastricht (NL), 18-19 October 2010

European Institute of Public Administration
Institut européen d'administration publique

Introduction

Target group

Given that Better Regulation affects all policy areas, attendance to the seminar will be important for officials from most Ministries and agencies, particularly those who are required to work with Better Regulation tools and approaches, such as Impact Assessment, Simplification, Administrative Burden measurements, Consultation and Implementation. It will also be of interest to stakeholder groups and policy researchers.

Description

As Better Regulation – the strategy to simplify and improve the regulatory environment for citizens and businesses – continues to be a key priority for politicians and public administrations at all levels of government in and beyond the European Union, it is becoming increasingly important for public officials, businesses, NGOs and social movements, to understand what Better Regulation is about and what it is likely to mean for them.

Method

The seminar will be interactive and will combine lectures, case studies, and group work. Participants will be encouraged to share their own experiences of working with Better Regulation tools and methods.

Objectives

By the end of the seminar, participants will understand:

- why Better Regulation has been highlighted as a key policy priority within the European Union Institutions and Member States;
- the key principles underlying the development of Better Regulation strategies across the European Union;
- the potential opportunities and challenges for public administrations and stakeholders from introducing and applying Better Regulation practices across Government;
- how the main Better Regulation practices are being applied in the EU Institutions and in Member States, and the lessons learned from their application.
- what the latest developments are at the European policy level regarding better regulation activities.
