Introductory & Practitioners Seminar: European Public Procurement Rules, Policy and Practice

Maastricht (NL), 22-24 September 2010

The European Institute of Public Administration (EIPA) is organising an Introductory & Practitioners Seminar on "European Public Procurement Rules, Policy and Practice" which will take place at EIPA in Maastricht (NL) on 22-24 September 2010.

Prior to the seminar, EIPA will provide a basic introduction to European Public Procurement for newcomers to procurement or non-procurement persons on 21 September 2010.

Target group

The seminar is intended for public officials from national, sub-national and local authorities and other public bodies from the EU Member States, European institutions and candidate countries, who wish to familiarise themselves with European public procurement rules, policy and practice, as well as for other interested persons working in this field, for example representatives from industry and academia.

Description

The seminar will cover the principles and procedures of European public procurement policy, focusing on the Public Procurement Directives, relevant case law and the enforcement of the procurement regime. It will address international aspects of and new initiatives in the Community's procurement policy.

Method

A mixture of presentations, discussions and cases concerning actual procurement practice to be discussed in working groups.

Objectives

The primary aim of this Introductory & Practitioners' seminar is to present and explain the EC rules and principles on public procurement in an accessible way and to enhance awareness of professional procurement practices. The seminar will also include an interactive workshop with specific cases. Most importantly, the seminar will offer an excellent platform for participants to exchange experiences and concerns in dealing with public procurement.

The seminar will be conducted in English.
